

Vision Statement

To nurture scientific and technological innovation

Mission Statement

At IJCA, we are driven to help professionals, scientists', technologists, researchers and students to bring in technological innovation and scientific discoveries. We want to bring value to the field of research that benefits the society. In the process, we are constantly working towards disseminating latest research amongst the international scientific communities and act as a catalyst to curb the practice of plagiarism.

We want to be a great place to work where people dare to try new things and they know that limits to their imagination will be the ceiling on how far they can go. In doing so, we endeavour the principles of integrity, transparency, efficiency and accountability.
